Nairn, Ontario

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: December 2025

Historical Sketch

Early Presbyterian services in Williams Township were held in a log building in the village of Nairn, around 1835, when a log church was erected on Petty Street. This church served the congregation until the early 1840s when a new frame church, known as the "Basswood" church, was constructed. The first minister of the congregation was Rev. Duncan McMillan. In 1844, the congregation split, with a majority adhering to the Free Church. After a lengthy dispute, legal counsel determined in 1852 that the "Basswood" church building belonged to the minority that remained with the Established Church of Scotland. This congregation took the name of St. Andrew's, East Williams.

The "Free Church" members built a new brick church and continued as the Presbyterian Congregation of Williams (later East Williams). They were also known as the "McPherson Church" after their long-time minister, Rev. Lachlan McPherson. In 1875, the congregation voted not to join The Presbyterian Church in Canada. The congregation appears to have become in-active by c.1893 and the property and assets were sold in 1900.

The minority group that associated with the Presbyterian Church in Canada in Connection with the Church of Scotland continued to worship out of the old "Basswood" church until this became too small in the late 1860s. Rather than build a single large church, the congregation built two smaller churches – one in Beechwood and the other in Nairn. The two churches were managed by one Session until 1944 when the congregation was divided. The Nairn church was joined with Ailsa Craig and the Beechwood church with Strathroy. In 1947, the Nairn church was dissolved, while Beechwood was separated from Strathroy and joined with Centre Road and West Adelaide as a three-point charge.

Neepawa, Manitoba

Knox Presbyterian Church

Historical Sketch

Knox Presbyterian Church (Neepawa, Man.) was established in 1882 when the first church building was opened in Neepawa. Presbyterians had been ministered to by missionaries to the area as early as 1877. The Rev. D. McRae was sent to the area in 1881 by the Home Mission Committee. The first session was created in 1884. A larger church was constructed and opened on March 15, 1892. The Rev. S. C. Murray was the first inducted minister to the congregation. During the time of Church Union in 1925, the majority of Knox's congregation voted to remain a part of The Presbyterian Church in Canada. The congregation became self-sustaining in 1944.

Nestleton, Ontario

Cadmus Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: December 2025

Historical Sketch

This congregation appears to have a somewhat complicated history. The linked congregations of Enniskillen and Williamsburg were organized c. 1869 as part of the Canada Presbyterian Church. After 1875, the congregation at Enniskillen became linked with Cartwright and then Blackstock c. 1900. In 1903, Enniskillen and Blackstock became a three-point charge with Cadmus Presbyterian Church (established c. 1845). This arrangement lasted until c. 1912 when the congregations of Cadmus and Nestleton Station appear to have amalgamated. The congregation was at various times called Nestleton Presbyterian Church, Cadmus Presbyterian Church, and Cadmus-Nestleton Presbyterian Church. The congregation was also linked for a time with the Ballyduff and Janetville congregations. Cadmus Presbyterian Church dissolved on June 29, 2011.

Historical Sketch

The first Presbyterian church in New Carlisle was built in 1820. In 1925, the congregation voted in favour of Church Union, though a number of members elected to remain Presbyterian. A new church was dedicated in July 1930. The land for the new church and cemetery had been purchased from one of the congregants, Albert M. Caldwell. The congregation celebrated its 175th Anniversary in 1995. It became part of the Northern New Brunswick Regional Ministry charge in June 2016 along with St. Luke, Bathurst; Knox, Campbellton; and St. John's, Dalhousie.

New Denver, British Columbia

Knox Presbyterian Church

Historical Sketch

Knox Presbyterian Church (New Denver, B.C.) was established as a mission in 1897 by the Rev. William Beattie. The mission field included Sandon, Slocan and Nakusp. The church was formally opened on September 9, 1897. In 1905, New Denver became an augmented charge and called their own minister, the Rev. Brown. Sandon, Whitewater, New Denver and Silverton made up the field. The congregation of New Denver remained with The Presbyterian Church in Canada during the time of Church Union in 1925. The congregation of New Denver closed on October 5, 1969.

New Glasgow, Ontario

Knox Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: December 2025

Historical Sketch

Knox Presbyterian Church (New Glasgow, Ont.) was established in 1828. The congregation chose to remain a part of The Presbyterian Church in Canada during the time of Church Union in 1925. Throughout its operation, New Glasgow has had close associations with the church at Kintyre as well as the church in Rodney. Knox Church in Kintyre was formed in the mid-1850s and the two (New Glasgow and Kintyre) joined together under one Session until 1874. In c.1876, a congregation in Rodney was formed (St. John's Presbyterian Church). These two congregations were then joined together until 1925. From 1925 to 1961 New Glasgow and Rodney were linked as a two-point charge. In 1961 Knox Church in Kintyre was also added to form a three-point charge.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: December 2025

Historical Sketch

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Newmarket was formed in 1874 when two church groups united.

The first group was formed from the two congregations of Whitchurch, Newmarket (King) and Queen Street (Concession 3, East Gwillimbury). Together they petitioned the General Assembly of the Established Church of Scotland for a Minister and Rev. Henry Gordon was inducted in 1834. The congregation was in the process of building a church at Lot 58, Timothy Street West, when the building was commandeered by government forces and used as a prison during the Rebellion of 1837. Soon after, the building was completed for the church and was used until 1875.

The second group was the congregation known as the Free Church Congregation. It was organized in 1871 and worshiped in the former Baptist Church on Prospect Street in Newmarket, under a student missionary George Bruce (later ordained in 1875).

In 1874, the Whitchurch and Free Church congregations agreed to unite and took the name of St. Andrew's. From 1875 to 1876 St. Andrew's was linked with St. Andrew's Aurora under the ministry of Rev. George Bruce. They built a new church at Eagle and Water Street which was completed in 1875. In 1905, land across from the church, on the west side of Eagle Street, was bought and a building was moved on to this property and as well, a new manse was built on this property in 1908. In 1925 the congregation voted to remain within the Presbyterian Church.

Drummond Hill Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: January 2026

Historical Sketch

Drummond Hill Presbyterian Church (Niagara Falls, ON) was established in 1802. The first minister was the Rev. D. W. Eastman. He served Drummond Hill and the surrounding areas from 1802 until 1865. The name Drummond Hill emerged in honour of General Gordon Drummond, the commander of the British forces in the Battle of Lundy's Lane. A church building was erected in 1795 and was used by all denominations in the area. The building was left in ruins after the war of 1812. A new communal building opened in 1819. The first Presbyterian Church building was built in 1836. A larger building was built in 1888. The congregation voted to remain with the Presbyterian Church in Canada during Church Union in 1925. A Sunday School building was built in 1929.

Stamford Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: January 2026

Historical Sketch

Stamford Presbyterian Church (Niagara Falls, Ont.) entered The Presbyterian Church in Canada on June 25, 1935, from the United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A. The congregation was originally formed in 1784 as a mission station. The congregation had no affiliation with any Presbyterian body until 1822 when they united with the Associate Presbyterian Synod, an American body in connection with the Secession Church of Scotland. This body became the United Presbyterian Church in 1858, at which time the congregation chose to continue the affiliation. The congregation then changed their name from the Stamford Presbyterian Meeting House to Stamford United Presbyterian Church. The first church building was completed circa 1791 and the first minister, the Rev. John Dun was inducted in 1794. A new church building was completed in 1870, extended in 1956 and renovated in 1962.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: January 2026

Historical Sketch

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church (Newark/ Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont.) was established in 1794 when a group of residents began meeting together for Presbyterian worship. The Rev. John Dun was the first minister. A church building was completed in 1794. This church was destroyed by the Americans during the war of 1812. Following the war, the congregation met in the school and eventually opened a new church in 1831. The congregation rejected Church Union in 1925 by a vote of 68 to 18. The church steeple was destroyed by fire in 1949 when work was being done on a new spire.

The Victoria St Congregation was a part of the Free Church and in 1875 when all Presbyterians joined to form the Presbyterian Church in Canada, the assets of Victoria were sold with the proceeds going into St. Andrew's.

Historical Sketch

Knox Presbyterian Church (Normanby, Ont.) was formed in 1859. A stone church was built shortly after the arrival of the Rev. Patrick Greig, the first minister to be inducted into the three-point charge of Hampden, East Normanby and Middle Station (later Knox, Normanby). In 1878, Presbytery separated the charges and Knox was united with Amos, Dromore. A new brick building was completed in 1884. Knox, Normanby chose to remain with The Presbyterian Church in Canada during Church Union in 1925. The union with Amos, Dromore lasted until 1958 when the charge was rearranged to include Knox, Holstein.

North Battleford, Saskatchewan

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: January 2026

Historical Sketch

The first Presbyterian church in North Battleford was built in the fall of 1905. In 1925, the congregation voted to join the United Church, and the continuing Presbyterians worshipped in the Odd Fellows Hall for a time before purchasing the former Methodist church. The newly formed congregation took the name St. Andrew's. They changed the name to Knox-St. Andrew's in 1940, and back to St. Andrew's in 1960. A new church building was built in 1961. The congregation dissolved in November 2024.

Paynton Mission Field was, at one time, supplied by North Battleford. It is unclear whether there was more of an association between the two.

Historical Sketch

North Caradoc Presbyterian Church (Ont.) was established in 1850 with the beginning of Presbyterian services. The first log church building was completed in 1853. North Caradoc was united with Melville Church; Lobo and the two congregations had a joint session. The minister was the Rev. J. Ferguson, who began his ministry in 1855. The log building was replaced by a brick church in 1876. The joint session of the two congregations was separated in 1889, the two churches continued as a joint charge with two separate sessions. The church building at North Caradoc was destroyed by wind in 1913. The church of St. Andrew's, Mount Brydges offered the congregation the use of their church building during the time of rebuilding. This arrangement led to the separation of the North Caradoc and Melville congregations and the union of St. Andrew's with North Caradoc. The newly rebuilt church was dedicated on May 24, 1914. In 1921, the congregation of Knox, Komoka was added to the charge. During the time of Church Union, North Caradoc chose to remain a part of The Presbyterian Church in Canada. North Caradoc and St. Andrew's were fully amalgamated on September 30, 1999. North Caradoc-St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was formed on September 30, 1999, with the amalgamation of North Caradoc Presbyterian Church (est. 1850) and St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church (Mount Brydges, Ont.) (est. 1900). North Caradoc and St. Andrew's were a two-point charge from 1913 until 1921 when Knox, Komoka was added to the charge. North Caradoc-St. Andrew's became a two-point charge with Komoka after the amalgamation in 1999. It remained a two-point charge until 2020. Caradoc Presbyterian Church in Strathroy, Ontario was formed in 2020 with the amalgamation of North Caradoc-St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and Knox Presbyterian Church in Komoka.

North Mornington Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: January 2026

Historical Sketch

North Mornington Presbyterian Church (Ont.) was established around 1856 when Presbyterian services were begun in what was then known as Gamble Settlement. The first church building was opened in 1861. The first minister, Rev. A. A. Drummond served both North Mornington and Milverton. North Mornington was linked with Burns Church, Milverton from 1860 to 1886. In 1886 North Mornington became a separate charge. In 1930 the two congregations were linked with each other again. The North Mornington congregation rejected Church Union in 1925. The congregation dissolved in November 2012.

First Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: January 2026

Historical Sketch

First Presbyterian Church (North Pelham, Ont.) was established in 1828 by the Rev. Daniel William Eastman. The congregation opened their first building on June 8, 1832. The congregation became part of the Presbytery of Niagara which was organized in 1833 in connection with the American Presbyterian Church. The congregation transferred to the Presbytery of Hamilton within the Canada Presbyterian Church in 1861. The Rev. Alexander McGlashan was the first minister to be inducted following the transfer. A new church building was dedicated on January 29, 1873. The congregation chose to remain with The Presbyterian Church in Canada during the time of Church Union in 1925.

St. Giles Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: January 2026

Historical Sketch

St. Giles Presbyterian Church (North Sydney, N.S.) was formed in 1925 by the non-concurring Presbyterians of St. Matthew's Presbyterian Church (which became St. Matthew-Wesley United Church). The continuing congregation passed a resolution indicating their intent on April 25, 1925. Shortly after, the name St. Giles was chosen by the congregation. The congregation purchased the old Methodist church building from St. Matthew-Wesley United Church in 1925. The first minister to be inducted following Union was the Rev. W. E. Davies who began his ministry at St. Giles on June 30, 1927. The old church building was sold, and a new building was begun in 1974. The new building was dedicated and opened on July 6, 1975.

St. James Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: January 2026

Historical Sketch

St. James Presbyterian Church (North Yarmouth, Ont.) was established in 1838 as Kilmartin Presbyterian Church. A log church was constructed about this time. The congregation was supplied by ministers from St. Thomas and by a catechist from the Church of Scotland, Duncan McColl. The congregation replaced the log church with a frame building in 1858. The Rev. Archibald Currie was inducted as the first minister in 1862. The congregation was joined with Knox Presbyterian Church in Belmont under one Kirk Session from c.1850-1889. In 1892, a new brick church was built and named St. James Presbyterian Church. The old Kilmartin church was sold. The congregation voted to continue with The Presbyterian Church in Canada during the time of Church Union in 1925.

Norval, Ontario

Norval Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: January 2026

Historical Sketch

Norval Presbyterian Church (Ont.) began in the 1830s as a congregation of the United Synod of Upper Canada. During the 1844 Disruption, the congregation joined the Presbyterian Church of Canada (Free Church). From the mid-1830s Norval was linked with Union Presbyterian Church, Norval. The two congregations were also linked with Boston Presbyterian Church, Esquesing from 1847 to 1859. The first building was constructed in 1839. A second building was constructed in 1878-1879. Norval Presbyterian Church voted to reject Church Union in 1925. The congregation was served by the Rev. Ewen Macdonald from 1926 until 1935. The Rev. Macdonald was husband to the author L.M. Montgomery. The congregation celebrated their 185th Anniversary in 2023 and dissolved in 2024.

Access Restrictions

Session minutes are restricted for a period of 50 years from the date they were written.

Notes

Accession 1987-4003 includes records of Norval Presbyterian Church and Union Presbyterian Church, Norval. Although the two congregations were not amalgamated, several records were used by both congregations, notably some volumes of Session Minutes, Baptisms, and Marriages.

Historical Sketch

Knox Presbyterian Church (Norwich, Ont.) was established with the amalgamation of two Presbyterian churches in 1875. Norwichville Presbyterian Church in connection with the Church of Scotland was established in 1848. This congregation built a frame church in 1866. The second Presbyterian Church was established in 1848 by the Rev. Alexander A. Drummond in connection with the Synod of the United Presbyterian Church. A church building was opened in 1851. The Rev. R. Rodgers was the first minister inducted to this congregation on October 10, 1853. The two congregations united in 1875 and a new church building was opened in 1879. The new congregation was known as Knox Presbyterian Church by 1920. Knox remained with The Presbyterian Church in Canada during the time of Church Union in 1925.
