First Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: February 2026

Historical Sketch

First Presbyterian Church (Pembroke, Ont.) was established in 1925 by the non-concurring Presbyterians of Calvin church which was established in 1849. The first service of the new congregation was held in the Grand Opera House on January 25, 1925. The Rev. Ernest Crawford McCullagh was inducted on July 8, 1925. A new church building was completed and dedicated on May 19, 1929. In 1960, the congregation of Alice Presbyterian Church was merged with First Presbyterian Church, Pembroke. The amalgamated body continuing under the name of First Presbyterian Church, Pembroke. The congregation of Alice Presbyterian Church traces its origins to the mid-1800s. In 1865, the congregation in Alice was one of six preaching stations in the area. By 1873, the congregation was formally organized as a mission station and was joined with the churches in Petawawa and Indian River, under one Kirk Session. The church in Indian River seems to have been dissolved around 1904, with its members being accepted into the Alice and Petawawa congregations. In 1938, the Alice and Petawawa churches were separated.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: February 2026

Historical Sketch

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church (Perth, Ont.) was established in 1830 under the Rev. Thomas Clarke Wilson. Rev. Wilson was sent to Perth by the Church of Scotland in response to Presbyterians dissatisfied with the Rev. William Bell of First Presbyterian Church, Perth. In 1835 a group opposed to music in the church left St. Andrew's and formed the Reformed Presbyterian Church. St. Andrew's and First Presbyterian united in 1857. The majority of the congregation voted not to enter Church Union in 1925. The church building had been destroyed by fire in 1923 and was rebuilt, being completed and dedicated on March 11, 1928.

Historical Sketch

St. Giles Presbyterian Church (Peterborough, Ont.) was established in 1952 as project of St. Paul's, Peterborough. The first service was held in Confederation School on Sunday October 5, 1952. The congregation was initially known as South Peterborough Presbyterian Church but quickly adopted the name St. Giles. The Rev. Gilbert Smith was the first minister of the new congregation, he was appointed by the Mission Board and began his ministry on April 5, 1953. The congregation had its own church building circa 1954. Knox Presbyterian Church (Keene, Ont.) amalgamated with St. Giles on December 31, 1986.

Peterborough, Ontario

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: February 2026

Historical Sketch

St. Paul's P.C. in Peterborough, Ontario had its beginnings when Rev. John Morrice Roger came from Scotland in 1833 and established a Presbyterian presence in the city. From a wooden structure on the corner of King and Aylmer streets, then an old stone church, to the present building on Water and Murray Street in 1859. In the 1950's, a Christian Education building was added on the site of the church. The congregation has experienced challenges in 1843 when there was a split between the Old Church of Scotland and the Free Church of Scotland, and then again in 1925 with the efforts of the United Church. St. Paul's remained Presbyterian. They celebrated their 165th Anniversary in 1998.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: February 2026

Historical Sketch

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Petrolia, Ontario began as a mission station of the Canada Presbyterian Church in 1856. Along with another new mission station which was to become the Oil Springs congregation, this mission was an extension of the work of Rev James W. Chestnut who was supplying nearby Mangaumin and Mooreline mission stations. Worship in the new (Petrolia) mission was conducted in the Enniskillen Town Hall at the 8th Line and Highway 21.

With the discovery of oil in Enniskillen Township the towns of Petrolia and Oil Springs were established and grew. The mission at Enniskillen Town Hall grew and in 1858, was established as a congregation and was known as Petrolia Presbyterian Church. At the same time the newly erected congregation of Oil Springs was established. These two congregations united with Mangaumin and Mooreline to call their first minister Rev James W. Chestnut inducted in 1859. The link with Mangaumin and Mooreline was severed in 1861 and the two-point charge continued until 1866 when Oil Springs was separated from Petrolia, and Petrolia was linked with Wyoming. In 1871 Petrolia and Wyoming were separated. In 1882 some members and elders of Petrolia Presbyterian Church withdrew over the issue of introducing hymns into public worship and established a second congregation. This congregation was called Knox, and the original Petrolia congregation became known as First. In 1885 the two congregations were re-united as Petrolia Presbyterian Church. In 1925, Petrolia congregation voted to remain in The Presbyterian Church in Canada, taking the name, St. Andrew's in 1929. Petrolia continued on its own until 1975 when it was connected to Knox, Dawn Township, an arrangement which continued until 2018 when Knox dissolved.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: February 2026

Historical Sketch

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church (Picton, Ont.) was established in 1833. The first minister was the Rev. James Rogers. Rev. Rogers also served the congregations of Demorestville and Hillier until about 1838. At this time St. Andrew's became a separate congregation with their own minister, the Rev. Alexander McLean. The first church building was built in 1837. The town was initially known as Hallowell and later became known as Picton. The congregation of St. Andrew's remained with The Presbyterian Church in Canada during the time of Church Union in 1925.

Point Edward, Ontario

Point Edward Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: February 2026

Historical Sketch

In 1860 the railway town of Huron was renamed Point Edward in honour of a visit from Edward Prince of Wales. The Grand Trunk Railway erected a church on Livingstone Street for use by all Christian denominations. Local Presbyterians used this building for its Sunday School and walked to services at St. Andrew's Sarnia, except when their minister was free to conduct an afternoon service in Point Edward. In 1870 a lot on Michigan Avenue was obtained from the Grand Trunk Railway and with the help of St. Andrew's Sarnia, a frame church was completed in 1872. That year the congregation changed its status from a Mission Station of St. Andrew's to a separate congregation. The first minister was Rev. William Armstrong who was inducted in 1872. Property was purchased in 1875, and a manse building was completed in 1883. The manse was destroyed by a gas explosion and fire in 1943, and a new manse was completed in 1946. The name of the church was Point Edward Presbyterian Church except for a brief time in 1941-1942 when the name was changed to St. Enoch's.

From 1875 to 1942 Point Edward continued as a single charge, either as a congregation or as a mission station. From 1943 to 1965 Point Edward was linked with Knox, Calamachie, then from 1965 to 1972 it was linked with St. Matthew's Sarnia and from 1972 Point Edward was linked with Brigdon and Knox Dawn in a three-point charge. In 1975 Point Edward was linked only with Brigdon, an arrangement which continued until 2000.

Knox Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: February 2026

Historical Sketch

Knox Presbyterian Church (Port Carling, Ont.) was established in 1876 with the construction of a church building. The congregation of Port Carling was joined with Raymond, Dee Park and in 1877, with McIntosh. Services were initially conducted by students from the Knox College Missionary Society, visiting ministers, laymen, and local elders. In 1882, Port Carling was severed from Raymond and Dee Park (McIntosh having been dissolved in 1881) and was linked to Port Sandfield. Knox was forced to close from 1883-1884 due to a lack of funds and of members. However, the congregation rallied in 1885. Knox was once again united with Raymond and Dee Park from 1886 until 1892 when Knox was joined with Beaumaris. The charge expanded in 1894 to include Raymond, Dee Bank, Port Carling, Bala, Beaumaris, Whiteside, Killiecrankie, Craigie Lea House and Stanley Brae. The Rev. D. McDerment was the first fully inducted minister to Knox, Port Carling. He began his ministry in 1906. The charge grew smaller as services at summer homes were abandoned in favour of new churches and as congregations grew smaller. The congregation rejected Church Union in 1925. In 1926, the church was moved and a basement was added, it was at this time that the Sunday School was organized.

Church of the Good Shepherd

Last Updated: February 2026

Historical Sketch

The Church of the Good Shepherd was first formed as Shelter Bay Anglican Mission in January 1959. As the only Protestant church in the area, it was a community church and in April 1959 it was proposed that the church be a Presbyterian congregation as the other major Protestant denominations were already represented in the region. The charge became vacant in 1982, and the congregation dwindled until in 1986 the building was sold to the French Baptist Church by the Presbytery of Quebec.

First Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: February 2026

Historical Sketch

First Presbyterian Church (Port Colborne, Ont.) was organized by Presbytery on August 14, 1869. The congregation united with Welland, Crowland, and North Pelham to call a minister. The Rev. William Hancock was the first minister to be inducted. Port Colborne withdrew from this union in 1877. The congregation initially met in the Union Church which was shared with other Christian denominations in the area, in 1879 they purchased the church. The name First Presbyterian Church was in use by 1882. In 1909, the church building was badly damaged by fire and was sold to the School Board. The congregation built a new church on Charlotte and Elm Streets which was dedicated December 1, 1909. First Presbyterian Church chose not to enter Union in 1925 but remained a part of The Presbyterian Church in Canada. The church building was improved in 1935 with the addition of McGillvray Hall, and again in 1962 with the Christian Education Building.

Port Elgin, New Brunswick

St. James Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: February 2026

Historical Sketch

St. James Presbyterian Church in Port Elgin, New Brunswick was established in 1854. The present church building was constructed in 1898, with extensive renovations completed in 1926. At the time of Church Union in 1925 the congregation voted to remain with The Presbyterian Church in Canada. In 1939, the church was linked with St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in Sackville and St. James Presbyterian Church in Dorchester to form a three-point charge. This became a two-point charge after St. James, Dorchester and St. Andrew's, Sackville were amalgamated in 1968. The link with St. Andrew's, Sackville continued until 2001 when the two were separated. The congregation dissolved in November 2014.

Port Elgin, Ontario

Tolmie Memorial Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: February 2026

Historical Sketch

Tolmie Memorial Presbyterian Church (Port Elgin, Ont.) was formed in 1925 by non-concurring Presbyterians of the former Knox Presbyterian Church (now Port Elgin United Church). The congregation was united as a two-point charge with Queen Hill Presbyterian Church. A new church building was completed and dedicated on December 12, 1926. The congregation assumed the name Tolmie Memorial in honour of Major J. C. Tolmie's father, the Rev. Andrew Tolmie. Major Tolmie was instrumental in assisting the new congregation in its opening years. Queen Hill fully amalgamated with Tolmie Memorial in 1960 following a fire which destroyed the Queen Hill church. In 1968, the two-point charge of Burgoyne and Dunblane were added to Tolmie Memorial though Dunblane dissolved shortly after. Tolmie Memorial and Knox, Burgoyne remain a two-point charge to the present.

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: June 2026

Historical Sketch

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church in Port Hope, Ontario was built in 1906. The building brought together the three Presbyterian congregations in the area. First Presbyterian Church and St. Andrew's came together in 1906, with Mill Street Presbyterian Church joining in 1912. Presbyterians, from these amalgamated congregations, had been in the Port Hope area since 1827, meeting in private residences, schoolhouses, and smaller church buildings prior to St. Paul's construction. The congregation celebrated 150 years in 1977.

St. John's Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: February 2026

Historical Sketch

St. John's Presbyterian Church (Port Perry, Ont.) was established in 1856 by the Rev. R. Monteath under the United Presbyterian Church of Scotland. In 1872, the church became a part of the Canada Presbyterian Church. It appears as though the name St. John's was acquired around 1890. The congregation initially worshipped in the Methodist's building. The current church building was constructed around 1870. During the time of Church Union in 1925, St. John's remained with The Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Port Robinson, Ontario

Port Robinson Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: February 2026

Historical Sketch

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, originated with the establishment of a congregation at Port Robinson under the Rev. Dr. Bullions in 1822. The Congregation was connected with the Associate Synod of North America and the Presbytery of Albany, NY. Port Robinson was linked with the Stamford congregation, this being one of the oldest congregations in Ontario, their first gathering dating back to 1785 and their first minister called in 1794. Port Robinson built their first church in 1824 and in 1825 they became part of the Presbytery of Stamford, an offshoot of the Presbytery of Albany. In 1855 Port Robinson formed a separate congregation, then was re-united again with Stamford in 1862. In 1872 the Port Robinson congregation severed its connection with Stamford and joined the Presbytery of Hamilton and the Canada Presbyterian Church. In 1874 Port Robinson was linked in a four-point charge with Crowland, North Pelham and Port Colborne. Then North Pelham was linked with Port Robinson from 1876 to 1879. From 1880 to 1886 Port Robinson was linked with Thorold and from 1887 to 1890 Port Robinson was linked with Merritton in a two-point charge. After that Port Robinson became a mission station, re-joined Merritton as a two-point charge from 1901 until 1904. Port Robinson reverted to being a mission station supplied by students or ministers until 1920, which was the last mention of Port Robinson in the Acts and Proceedings. A congregational history says the 100th anniversary was commemorated in 1922.

Knox (Bellafield) Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: February 2026

Historical Sketch

Knox Bellafield Presbyterian Church, once known locally as the Gaelic Church, is a direct link to the Crofters, a group of settlers from the Western Isles of Scotland who came to the Pelican Lake area in 1888. They brought their Gaelic language and Presbyterian beliefs to a place they called Bellafield (Bella is Gaelic for 'beautiful') and by 1890 had erected a church from local fieldstone. Rebuilt of wood in 1906 incorporating the foundation and roof of its predecessor. The church was designated as a municipal heritage site in 1991. The congregation dissolved in August 2023.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: February 2026

Historical Sketch

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Prescott, Ontario was organized in 1820 by the Rev. Robert Boyd. The first church building was dedicated in 1822. By 1849 the congregation decided to build a larger stone church. This church along with the manse was destroyed by fire in 1892. The congregation managed to replace the church and all its fittings within 14 months. During the time of Church Union in 1925, the majority of St. Andrew's congregation voted to remain a part of The Presbyterian Church in Canada. In 1962, a Christian Education building was added to the church.

Historical Sketch

Semi-regular services began in 1835 at the McKees' home, conducted by Rev. Gardner. By 1847, services had relocated to the schoolhouse at Price's Corners. After worshiping there for some time, the decision was made to construct a church. In 1862, Bethel Presbyterian Church was completed. The congregation soon formed a two-point charge with St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in Hillsburgh. A new church building was constructed at Price's Corners in 1892. The congregation dissolved in 1988, and the church building was subsequently converted into a private home.

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: February 2026

Historical Sketch

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church began in 1866 as a Presbyterian Mission upon the arrival of Rev. James Nisbet. The first church building was erected in 1872, offering service in English and Cree. Due to increases in attendees, a second church was built in 1881 and a third in 1891. Finally, the fourth building was erected in 1906 on the corner of Twelfth Street and First Avenue East, designed to hold 750 people. During the time of the Church Union debate in 1925, St. Paul's was one of the 22 out of 854 Presbyterian churches who chose to remain a part of The Presbyterian Church in Canada. The congregation dissolved on June 30, 2017.

First Presbyterian Church

Last Updated: February 2026

Historical Sketch

On the first Sunday of July 1907, Rev. J.D. Kidd held the first service for the Presbyterian Church in a construction mess hall. Soon after, the congregation erected a canvas tent church in the gully close to the waterfront. By the time the town of Prince Rupert was incorporated in 1910, the Presbyterians were a well-established congregation. Between 1910 and 1913, the congregation built a manse and the Sunday School Hall where services were held until the new church building was completed in 1925. In 1987 there was a fire in the church, but it was caught in time to save the building. The church was designated as a Provincial Heritage Building in 1991, and tours were given throughout the summer months. The congregation dissolved in 2018.

Historical Sketch

Duff's Presbyterian Church (Puslinch, Ont.) was organized in 1837 by the Rev. Thomas Christie of Flamboro in association with the Associate Secession Church. A log church building was completed that same year. A second congregation was started in Puslinch in 1838 by the Rev. James Smith of Guelph in association with the Church of Scotland. The Secession church did not last long as members of the congregation either went to church in Guelph or joined with the congregation that would later be known as Duff's Church. The Rev. Meldrum was the first minister to the Church of Scotland congregation. He was inducted on March 11, 1840. Following the Disruption in Scotland. The congregation chose to unanimously follow Rev. Meldrum into the Free Church, thus forfeiting their property. The congregation was allowed to remain in their old church due to lack of a continuing Church of Scotland congregation until about 1854. The Rev. Hogg of St. Andrew's, Guelph organized a Church of Scotland congregation, and the Free Church members were forced to move. They built and opened a new building in 1854. In 1857, the name of the church was changed to Duff's Presbyterian Church in order to honour the missionary Rev. Alexander Duff. In 1890, Duff's Church and Knox, West Puslinch united in a two-point charge. The Gaelic services were discontinued in 1907. During the time of Church Union in 1925, the majority of Duff's voted to remain a part of The Presbyterian Church in Canada. In 1972, a new church hall was added and named "Nanson Hall".
